PRENTICE TO GREELEY.

[We find the following beautiful tribute to Horace Greeley, from the pen of George D. Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, in a late number of the New York Ledger:

TO A POLITICAL OPPONENT.

BY GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

I rend thee, Greeley, words of cheer,
Thou bravest, truest, best of men;
For I have marked thy strong career,
As traced by thy own sturdy pen;
I've seen thy struggles with the foes
That dared thee to the desperate fight,
And loved to watch thy goodly blows
Dealt for the cause thou deem'st the right.

Thou'st dared to stand against the wrong
When many faltered by thy side;
In thy own strength has dared be strong,
Nor on another's arm relied.
Thy own bold thoughts thou'st dared to think
Thy own great purposes avowed;
And none have ever seen thee shrink
From the fierce surges of the crowd.

Thou all unaided and alone,
Didst take thy way in life's young years,
With no kind hand clasped in thy own,
No gentle voice to soothe thy tears.
But thy high heart no power could tame,
And thou hast never ceased to feel,
Within thy veins a sacred flame
That turned thy iron nerves to steel.

I know that thou art not exempt
From all the weaknesses of earth,
For passion comes to rouse and tempt
The truest souls of mortal birth.
But thou hast well fulfilled thy trust,
In spite of love and hope and fear,
And e'en the tempest's thunder gust
But clears thy spirit's atmosphere.

Thou still art in thy manhood's prime,
Still foremost mid thy fellow men,
Though in each year of all thy time
Thou hast compressed three score and ten.
Oh, may each blessed sympathy,
Breathed on thee with a tear and sigh,
A sweet flower in thy pathway be,
A bright star in thy clear blue sky.

History of the 49th Pennsylvania

BY A. B. HUTCHISON,
Late Captain of Company 'C.'

CHAPTER XIV.

March to Boonesboro—March to Berlin—March to Wheatland—March to White Plains—Capture of Soldier's by Guerrillas—March to Warrenton—Let's move on our Right—Retreat to Centreville—Return to Warrenton—Resignation of Col. Irvin—Almost a Deserter shooting—Battle of Rappahannock Station—Camp at Brandy Station.

On the 15th of July we resumed our march, by way of Funkstown, to Boonesboro, not following the retreating enemy upon the route they had taken, but by moving back over the road we had come, towards the east side of the South mountain, the intention seeming to be, to take a line of march between the enemy and Washington, and nearer our own line of supply. We were urged forward so very rapidly, under the hot sun, that many of our men gave out, and lay down, from exhaustion, and, finally, Gen. Russell, our brigade commander, halted, and declared he would not march his men at such a rate under the circumstances.—We encamped at Boonesboro, and had a bath, and an opportunity to wash our clothing.

Next morning, at daylight, we moved, by the National pike, to Middletown, and thence, by way of Burkettsville, where we had a fight in 1862, and where now we cooked a cup of coffee, and indulged in hard-tack and pork, until, passing Petersville, we reached the Potomac at, or near, Berlin station, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Here we heard, for the first time, of the riots in New York city, fomented by the sympathizing friends of our misguided and oppressed Southern brethren, whom we had so unmercifully and unconstitutionally whipped a few days before. The riots, like almost all the other humane, enlightened and astute operations of the Northern sympathizers with the grand treason, came a day after the fair, however, and Mr. Seymour's friends were unmercifully "squelched" for all time.

We remained in camp on the 17th and 18th, near Berlin. The rain was constant and heavy, rendering roads and camps equally uncomfortable. Some supplies were received, and on the evening of the 18th, we moved to the river, where troops were already crossing the Potomac. In the morning we crossed the river, and, on the South bank, received an order to send three officers and six men to Carlisle to receive and take charge of drafted men to report at that camp. The writer having been one of the number designated, must depend upon the information of comrades for his materials in tracing the history of the regiment for a few months from this date.

The Regiment moved on to Wheatland, in the Loudon Valley, the same day, and encamped there. A fine barn, the only good one we saw in Virginia, was burned here that night, it was supposed, by some of our soldiers, in revenge upon the owner, who procured a guard at head-quarters, and drove them away from his potatoes. The guilty parties were not discovered, though every effort was made to ferret them out. The owner of the barn was a Militia Colonel, had taken part in the fight at Ball's Bluff, and was a consistent and gentlemanly, but yet very active rebel. He got little sympathy among our men, though, in fact, the burning of his barn was an outrage. Here the detail for Carlisle left the regiment, and started to Berlin to take the cars.

Next day the regiment resumed their march, and encamped at White Plains, where three members of Co. "C," who were out getting blackberries, and other berries, were captured by guerrillas and carried off. But one ever returned. The others were systematically, chivalrously and humanely starved to death at Andersonville, by the high-toned Southern gentlemen in charge of that delightful summer resort. The regiment moved on to near Warrenton, Va., near the famous Blue Springs, where they went into camp, and commenced a regular routine of camp life—drill, picket and fatigue. Nothing of note occurred until about the tenth of October, when Lee moved by our right flank, intending, evidently, to seize Centreville, and beat us to Washington.

Meade was awake, however, and getting to the Heights, at Centreville, awaited his foeman who, prudently, did not attack, but retreated again, followed by Meade, until the Rappahannock separated the two armies. Our regiment returned to Warrenton, and re-established their camps, and re-commenced their routine. Here Col. Wm. H. Irwin, who had seldom been on duty since his wound was received at Fredericksburg, April 29, 1863, formally resigned his commission, and took leave of the regiment. His resignation was upon the ground that his health was so much impaired that he could not longer perform the duties of his position in an active campaign, and was accepted upon the certificate of his Surgeon that such was the case.

The command of the regiment devolved upon Lt. Col. Hulings, who could not then be promoted to fill the vacant Colonelcy, because of our diminished numbers, as the Secretary of War, in his wisdom, had ordered that in the regiments who were decimated by war's chances should be refused all promotions until they fill their ranks, while green men were daily commissioned in new organizations, of men just as green, and thus all the recruits we might have got, absorbed.

Oct. 31st, the writer rejoined the regiment at Warrenton. The usual routine was still kept up, except that about this time we were ordered to shoot a deserter of our regiment, who had left us at the battle of Antietam, abandoning his duty as guard over a prisoner, and going off to the North.

The preparations were all made, and the troops were already forming to execute Samuel Weller—not the one who was servant to Pickwick—when a telegram from President Lincoln, directing the execution to be deferred one week, put a stop to the proceedings. Before the week was half up, a letter from one of the most venerable Ministers of Centre county, now dead, was received by Col Hulings, endorsed by the President, with a request to know if no circumstance of the case could not be found to justify him in granting the prayer of the writer, which was a commutation of the sentence of death, to hard labor during the war, or such period as the President might fix.

The letter was a most eloquent appeal for mercy—not to the man, but to his mother; and the President's endorsement showed that he had determined not to have the man shot. The reply of the Colonel was, that he had been a good soldier before he deserted, but there was nothing else to mitigate the crime. He was sent to the Rip Raps to pound stone till the war was over.

On the morning of November 7, '63, we were suddenly and unexpectedly ordered to move towards the river. We knew this meant fight, and so girded up our belts, screwed up our courage, packed up our tents and blankets, filled up our haversacks, canteens and pipes, and started to meet our friends, the chivalrous, but uncivil and dirty "jonnies."

The enemy were picketing a line several miles from the Rappahannock. We moved on driving their outposts and skirmishers before us during most of the day. A detachment of our regiment—Capt's Quigley and Hutchison in command, forming the skirmish line of our, the leading, brigade. When we got to the railroad, we found the fifth corps troops, with the 20th Maine Vol. on the left of the road, joining our line. We were now about a mile and a half from the river. At this point was Rappahannock Station, where the railroad bridge, now burned, had been, and just a few yards above a dam of the slackwater navigation company, with a lock, the Rappahannock having been made navigable for canalboats in this manner, by a series of dams and locks.

THE following is a specimen of printers' technical terms—it don't mean however, so much as it would seem to the uninitiated:

"William, put General Washington on the galley, and then finish the murder of the young girl you commenced yesterday. Set up the ruins of Herculaneum, and distribute the smallpox; you need not finish that runaway match, but have the high water in the paper this week. Put a new head to General Grant, and lock up Jeff. Davis; slide that old dead matter into hell, and let that pie alone until after dinner. You can put the Ladies' Fair to press, and then go to the devil and put him to work on Deacon Fogy's article on "Eternal Punishment."

AN Irish editor says, "Thank heaven, half the lies that are told about me are not true."

A MAN in Fort Wayne paid his taxes in gold the other day.

Wait Awhile.

Wait a moment, young man, before you throw that money down on the bar and demand a glass of brandy and water. Ask yourself if twenty-five cents can be better invested in something else. Put it back in your pocket, and give it to the poor. Take our word for it, you will not be sorry.

Wait, mother, before you speak harshly to the little chubby rogue who has torn his apron and soiled his white Marseilles jacket. He is only a child; "mother,, is the sweetest word in the world to him. Needle and thread and soapsuds will repair all damages now; but if you once teach him to shrink from his mother and hide away all his childish faults, that damage cannot be repaired.

Wait, husband, before you wonder audibly why your wife don't get along with family cares and household responsibilities "as your mother did." She is doing her best—and no woman can bear that best to be slighted. Remember the night she sat up with the little babe that died; remember the love and care she bestowed on you when you had that long spell of illness! Do you think she is made of cast iron? Wait—wait in silence and forbearance, and the light will come back to her eyes—the old light of the old days.

Wait, wife, before you speak reproachfully to your husband when he comes home late and weary and "out of sorts." He has worked for you all day long; he has wrestled, hand in hand, with Care, Selfishness and Greed, and all the demons that follow in the train of money-making. Let home be another atmosphere entirely; let him feel that there is one place in the world where he can find peace and quiet and perfect love.

Wait, bright young girls, before you arch your pretty eyebrows, and whisper "old maid" as the quiet figure steals by, with silver in its hair and crow's feet around the eyes. It is hard enough to lose life's gladness and elasticity—it is hard enough to see youth drifting away, without adding to the bitter cup one drop of scorn! You do not know what she has endured; you never can know until experience teaches you, so wait before you sneer at an old maid.

Drunk! That's All.

"What is it?" I asked a crowd of men upon the sidewalk, from whom, as I approach them, I hear repeated shouts of merriment. "What is there so amusing here?"

"Why, don't you see?" was the reply, "the fellow is drunk, that's all."

Yes, I did see. It was a young man who, in different circumstances, might have been called good looking. He had evidently been well dressed a few hours before, though now his hat was battered and his clothes soiled; and it made him a still more pitiable sight to see the evidence that he had come from a good home. He sat on the dusty walk, his back leaning against the brick wall, his head wagging, his eyes winking, an idiotic smile on his face. As he occasionally made some senseless remark, the laugh went up from the crowd.

A police officer soon came, who appeared to understand the case, and lifting the poor, degraded youth to his feet, he led him off to his home, or some place where he could get sober.

He was drunk! that's all.

And is not that enough? thought I.—If that boy—for he was scarcely more than a boy—has a mother worthy of that name; if he has a father who knows what it is to be honored by a child; if he has brothers or sisters, will they not think it is enough for the son and brother to come home in charge of an officer, who will explain, as he leaves him at the door: "I found him drunk in the street!"

That's all. Ah! boys, to have such a story of some of you, though it may be "all," would be enough to break your mother's heart, to deepen the lines of care upon your father's brow, as business or labor could never deepen them; to bring from your sister's eyes tears such as they had never shed.

How many hopes have been blasted, how many sorrows have been caused, how many graves have been filled by intemperance!—Home Visitor.

An Invincible Choir.

Our congregation, some time ago, concluded they must be in fashion, and get up a choir. We found it easier to get it up, than to get it down again, or keep it down in its proper place. Deacon Doty headed a large party which kept up a long war with our choir. In this protracted fight, our pastor, Parson Jones, Sr., took no part, but tried to moderate both parties. At length there was a truce and a kind of compromise effected in this wise: Hymn books being scarce, the deacon was to stand in front of the pulpit and "parcel out" the lines, that is, read the hymn by couplets, that all the congregation might have a chance to praise God, while the choir should lead the singing. So all went on smoothly for a time.

It happened, one day, that the Deacon rose in his place, book in hand, and anxiously felt, first in one pocket, then in another, then turned his book toward the window, held it out arm's length, and, evidently annoyed, exclaimed:

"My eyes are dim, I cannot see,
I did not bring my specs with me."

The choir struck up a long-metre tune, and sung this couplet, as they took it, "My eyes are dim," etc., and waited for another. No sooner did they pause, than Father Doty, with a deprecating gesture, explained:

"I did not mean that you should sing,
But I forgot my specs to bring."

The choir finished the tune, to these last words, to the astonishment of the good deacon, when, in evident vexation, he hastily added:

"You are fools, I do believe!
And I shall no more couplets give."

These lines were immediately sung, when the deacon, more astonished than ever, exclaimed:

"You're all bewitched, as I perceive,
And I'll bewitched, if I don't leave," making a pitch for the door. The persistent choir had done this last couplet, with a strong emphasis on the final word leave, just as the Deacon reached the door, when, looking back, he yelled out:

"I'll tell you what, if you will sing,
Old Parson Jones may read the hymn."

This was again sung with evident gusto, bringing the choir half way through the tune the third time, when the good old parson thought to put a stop to the scene by commencing to read the Scripture lesson. So, rising at that instant, and nearly bursting with laughter, he announced: "The second book of Samuel," and, in his confusion, forgot to announce chapter third, continued: "H

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Gen. JOHN W. GEARY, Cumber'd.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE,

HENRY W. WILLIAMS, Allegh'y.

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK.—There will be no paper issued from the office of the REPUBLICAN next week, for the reason that our foreman, journeymen, and devil are determined to enjoy the 4th of July.

Re-nomination of Gov. Geary.]

The State Convention, which met on the 23d inst, re-nominated Gen. JNO. W. GEARY, on the first ballot. The Convention, also, by acclamation, declared Hon. HENRY W. WILLIAMS the nominee of the party for the Supreme Judgeship. Gov. GEARY received 122 votes on the first ballot.—Only 11 votes being cast against him. Gen. J. F. HARTRANFT, who was our first choice, refused to let his name go before the convention' His object and aim was to unite and not distract the party. The people have honored him; but higher honors await him.

Gen. GEARY has made a most excellent Governor. He has greatly diminished the taxes, and paid off more of the Democratic State debt than any of his predecessors. We have not room to say more this week.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph says. The result is gratifying to us; that the nomination has our cordial concurrence; and that the nominee will receive from us a cheerful, constant and ardent support, as doubtless he will from every other Republican paper and voter in the State.

The candidate we present, for the second time, to the voters of Pennsylvania, for the highest office in their gift is, fortunately, not unknown to fame. He has filled many public stations, and all of them with credit. In civil office his capacity has always been equal to the demands of his station; his integrity has never been questioned; and to the forecaste of a statesman he has invariably added the prudence of a sage. In a military capacity his record has been equally satisfactory and brilliant. In the Mexican campaign and throughout the protracted struggle for the preservation of the Union, he exhibited all the traits of a soldier and all the zeal of a patriot. During his now nearly three years, service as Governor of this State, we question if even his bitterest political foes can point out a single important official act of his to which they can fairly and honestly except, on any other than mere partisan grounds.

So faultless are the civil and military records of Governor Geary that every Republican in the State may point to them with pride and challenge the most malevolent of his opponents to the closest scrutiny of his acts.

His nomination seemed to be an act due to his faithful discharge of duty and demanded by the interests of the party. Popular opinion indicated him as the choice of the party above all others, and in bowing to that plain expression of the public will the Convention laid the foundation of a victory which will secure the ascendancy of the Republican party in Pennsylvania for many years.

We enter upon the campaign buoyed by the certainty of victory, while our opponents, dispirited by many defeats and divided in sentiment as to a candidate almost beyond the possibility of agreement, although they may make a desparate struggle, will make it without a hope of success. Victory is certain—the re election of Geary by a majority of thousands is as sure as though it had already been accomplished.

SOLDIERS REUNION.—The Soldiers of Centre county have arranged to have a Reunion on Saturday, July 3d, 1869, in commemoration of the 4th.—The programme includes a demonstration at the Court House, at 2½ p. m., and a Banquet at the Brockerhoff House, at eight p. m. The programme at the Court House, will include the usual reading of the Declaration and an address—both by veteran soldiers—to be interspersed with songs by the Philharmonic Society, and music by the Bellefonte Band.—At the Banquet, a regular series of toasts, speeches and songs will be added to the more solid entertainment furnished by our hosts, Messrs. HOUSEAL & KROM.

Tickets to Banquet, $1.50. The public are invited to the entertainment at the Court House. All soldiers are respectfuly invited to participate in the Banquet.

We hope all the soldiers of Centre county will unite in making this a complete reunion, and have a gay and festive time.

THE Chicago papers assert that iron can be manufactured in that city at very low rates. Lake Superior pig iron, it is asserted, can be procured at Chicago at $18 a ton, and Indiana coal at $2 a ton. From these facts, it is argued, smelting furnaces should be established in Illinois and Indiana. The coal is reported to be free from sulpher, and of good quality.

The Registry Law.

Justice Sharswood, of Philadelphia, as has already been announced, has just made a decision in a case arising under the Registry Law. As usual with jurists, he covers a ream to say what should be put in a page—but therein, doubtless lies the wisdom. A condensation of his document gives the following points:

Although sitting as a single Judge at Nisi Prius, I am undoubtedly bound to act according to my own conviction, under my oath to support the Constitution; yet upon a question of this character and magnitude, I would hesitate long before arresting the execution of an act of the Legislature, if my decision could not be immediately brought before the Supreme Court by an appeal.

Under the terms of the Constitution any legislative act which destroys or impairs either the freedom or the equality of elections is null and void. It is the manifest duty of the judicial power so to construe them as to give them value and effect as an expression of the will of the people, made known in the highest exercise of their sovereignty, and paramount, therefore to any act or resolution of the Legislature or any other department of the Government.

Basing himself on the Constitution, Judge Sharswood argues that making one rule for Philadelphia and another for other places, is a violation of that instrument; and he urges that no restriction whatever can be placed by the Legislature upon the exercise of the elective franhcise. The tendency of his argument is to leave the regulating of franchise to the Constitution alone, and that legislative regulations and explanations are mere waste of time and paper.

After rehearsing the particular case (which is of slight interest outside of Philadelphia), Judge Sharswood says in conclusion:

On the whole, I am clearly of the opinion that the act of Assembly approved April 17, 1869, is unconstitutional. I have not felt it to be my duty to examine particularly the provisions applicable to the other part of the State. As was held last year by the Supreme Court, in relation to the act of April 4, 1868—because it undertakes to establish two different systems—the entire act, at least so far as elections are concerned, except the first clause of the fortieth section, must fall under the same condemnation. There may be, and appear to be, some sections in relation to other matters upon which I am not called to give any judgment. The forty-third section, which repeals such other laws as are inconsistent with the provisions of the act, is, of course, to be construed to mean such provisions as are constitutional and have the force of laws.—"This couclusion," as was said by Chief Justice Thompson, in Page et al. agt. Allen et al., "leaves all the election laws in force which were intended to be superseded by the act." Injunction awarded, upon security being entered in the sum of $1,000.

THE following communication came too late for insertion in last week's paper. We insert it simply because it is requested by active and reliable parties—friends of Gov. CURTIN.

For the Republican.

[COMMUNICATED.]

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It is often said that wonders never cease, and this is verrified in the last Watchman, and the last National, one a Copperhead sheet, the other a Radical. The Editors of both these papers, signed, with other citizens, a letter addressed to Gov. Curtin, inviting him to meet his neighbors at the Court House to receive "some manifestation of their high esteem and regard they held him in as a citizen, Philanthropist and statesman," before he left them on his mission to Russia. The meeting was held without the distinction of political parties. The Governor was addressed by one of the oldest active Democrats of the county, Mr. James Macmanus, in very appropriate remarks.

You published the letter of invitation, and Gov. Curtin's answer, in the REPUBLICAN in time for the Watchman and the National to have inserted them from your paper. You also published the proceedings of the meeting in time for those antipode journals to transfer the proceedings of the meeting to their columns, or to have given the meeting a passing notice, at least, for the information of their readers.—But no! Not one word has either of these Editors said about the meeting in their respective papers.

As respects the Watchman, it is Meekish, and in this changeable weather might give trouble to procure the consent of the "Ring" that directs him in matters of this kind. But as respects the National, it is different, he knows what the personal friends of Gov. Curtin have done for the National, and now they find MEEK and KINSLOE in juxtaposition in this omission. What's up? Here they act together—is it to go further? The National cannot blind any body, for his dereliction of friendship, professed, in neglecting or refusing to notice the proceedings at the Court House by publishing the unauthorized and uncalled-for communication signed "Lock Haven." It was unfair to Gov. Curtin, at this time, and the fustian editorial proclamation, of having appointed Minister Curtin, agent for the National in Russia, is ridiculously flat.—Yet it may appear in the Watchman as a quid pro quo for the National's silence respecting the Court House meeting. LINCOLN.

Eloquent Extract.

We make the following, extracts from a speech delivered before the state Convention by Gov. GEARY;

In bearing the banner you have this day confided to me, I pledge you that it shall be carried at the head of the Republican column, its movements shall always be directed to the sound of the heaviest firing; and, when the conflict is over, I confidently predict the banner will be placed as it was in 1866, in triumph upon the dome of the capitol, without spot or blemish on its stripes, and each and every star as bright as when its first effulgence beamed on the country, and Pennsylvania will still be as true as when she signed "the sacred covenant that binds the States together in the bonds of an everlasting union."—[Cheers.]

Sould the people again place me in the executive chair, I will continue to use mybest exertions to promote everywhere the peace, honor and welfare of my native State, and to secure all the blessings that a good government can bestow upon a free people. And it shall be my pleasure to aid the Chief Magistrate of the nation in his laudable efforts to "let us have peace," and if necessity should require it I will aid him to preserve our national rights and national honor at all hazards and every sacrifice. It shall be my special duty to extend all the influence I may possess to aid in procuring adequate protection for every branch of our domestic industry and productions, and to see that exact justice shall be done to the mechanic and the laborer, as well as to the capitalist, and, as far as possible, to make them feel that their true interests are one and inseparable. [Applause.]

As a candidate it shall be my constant aim to extend, strengthen and confirm the unity and good feeling of the Republican party, and in this work I sincerely invoke the aid of every true Republican. For my own part, I will not recognize divisions or factions in the party, but will from this time forth look upon it only as united, harmonious, patriotic and enthusiastic in the development and determination of the great principles and measures of progress for which it was organized. I have no enemies in whose punishment I can take delight, and whatever has been said or done in the excitement of the movements preliminary to this convention that was wrong and painful to me is frankly forgiven, and as far as possible obliterated from my memory.

The Republican party has a proud record in the past, and a glorious future before it. It has accomplished more good in a shorter space of time than any other organization that ever existed, and we have reason to rejoice that it still lives, and moves, and has a being. Among its achievements is the abolishment of slavery. That scandal to humanity and opprobrium of the nation lies dead amidst its worshippers. The rights and privileges of all men are secured in their lives, their homes, their labor, and their persons. All men are protected because they are men, without reference to race or color. In the language of Abraham Lincoln, it "cares for him who has borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan, and see us achieve and cherish a lasing peace among ourselves and with all nations." Each individual is animated with love for the Union and for universal liberty. Never was a Republican found guilty of firing into the flag of his country and shooting down its brave defenders. The party has sacredly decreed the payment of the entire debt incurred to save the life of the nation. In a word, it has defeated the nation's enemies, saved the Union, and caused it to be more highly respected and admired throughout the civilized world than ever before. [Applause.]

Friends of the four hundred thousand heroes who died for their country, with such a glorious record, how can you surrender your Government into the hands of those who would have destroyed it within the last six years if they could? The Union is the ark of safety. The Republican party has proven itself the true friend of the Union. Sustain the Republican party by victory, and you will there by sustain the Union. And suffer not unrepentant rebels and their sympathizers ever to touch the hallowed sanctuaries of either State or National Governments. Then let us here "highly resolve" to prereve forever the former in "Virtue, Liberty and Independence;" and to protect, defend and perpetuate the latter, let us here pledge anew "Our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

Gentlemen of the Convention, again I thank you.

Governor Geary, at the close of his remarks, was enthusiastically applauded.

THE Irish Republicans of this country will hold a mass meeting at Chicago on the fourth day of July, a demonstration the largest of the kind ever attempted here. The movement possesses much significance, and is destined to exert a strong influence on the politics of the nation. The truth is, Irishmen in America are weary of running and waiting for the Democracy, and there is every prospect that they will be deluded with it no longer. The Irish Republic, an able and influential paper, referring to the Convention and its probable results, says:

"We are sure that this convention will astonish this whole nation. From it shall spring the best results. In less than two years every intelligent Irishman in America will be in the ranks of Republicanism. Henceforth we shall take part in the formation of the politics of the nation. We shall vote, but shall previously pass on the issues.—Too long have we allowed manipulators to print the 'straight ticket,' and then order us to vote it without criticism."

The Democracy have shown a disposition to take the British side of the American question, Irishmen are preparing to speak out.—Pittsburg Com.

The Democrats of the Third District of Alabama finding themselves nearly all ineligible to Congress because of having afforded aid and comfort to the rebellion, looked about and found ont I. C. Parkinson, who went down from the North in 1865 and settled in their district to make money by work. As he is with them in heart and vote, while he can take the ironclad oath and they can't, they nominated him for Congress, and will elect him if they can. That what we call practical. You see a man isn't a "carpet bagger" because he came from the North, unless he is a Republican.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C.
June 25, 1869.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—Note-worthy incidents have been few and far between, for the past two weeks, here.—Such of our citizens as sojourned at the "Hub" during the continuance of the "Peace Jubilee," have returned, and, of course, are astonishing the stay-at-homes with their accounts of the wonders witnessed there. Among New-Englanders, nothing but Jubilee has been talked of for a month past, and the success which attended the monster concert is as striking an instance of what New England energy and rum can accomplish, as could be desired.

The imbroglio at the Government printing office, over the case of Louis H. Douglas, the colored compositor recently employed by Mr. Clapp, the Congressional printer, still continues, with but little prospect of an amicable arrangement. The National Typographical Union at its late meeting, passed a series of resolutions, referring to Douglass as a "rat," and denouncing the Congressional Printer for employing him. The Government printers, who constitute a large majority of Columbia Typographical Union, passed a series of resolutions deprecating the course pursued by the National Union, denying the assertion that Douglass is a "rat," and pledging themselves to stand by Mr. Clapp in his effort to resist the proscriptive course attempted to be laid down by the National Union. The "down town" printers generally oppose the course of the Government printer's and uphold the National Union, and, taken altogether, things are decidedly mixed. The Bricklayer's Union has expelled six of its members, employed in the U. S. Navy Yard, for refusing to strike because colored bricklayer's were put to work on the same yard with them.

It is certain, however, that the Government officials will not yield in this respect to the demands of those who still cling to their absurd prejudices against race and color. The question at issue is simply this: Shall the colored man be allowed to pursue an honest vocation in order to support himself and family, and contribute his portion to the wants of society; or shall he, being shut out from all occupations open to others, be forced to commit crime, become a public charge, or starve? There can be but one course left for all good and honest citizens.—Slavery is dead, and those who really desire its re-establishment can be counted on one's fingers. To deny work to the hands so eagerly extended therefor, simply because the owner is a shade darker than one's self, is to set one's self in opposition to the divine command. The duty of allgood citizens is to give their support, both actual and constructive, to those men who are leading the attack on the last stronghold of that spirit which so long sustained human slavery. We warn the Trades' Unions that if they persist in throwing themselves in the track of the car of Progress, it will crush them in its onward movement. That a body of men so intelligent as those who follow the "Art preservative" generally are, should not be lifted above this spirit of proscription, is wonderful, and only proves the danger of ever allowing prejudice to over-rule, in any instance, the innate sense of right.

The official guillotine still finds a few victims occasionally. Some twenty-five or thirty regular clerks, and all the temporary clerks in the Qartermaster General's office, were discharged a few days ago on account of the insufficiency of the appropriations made by Congress for the present fiscal year.

About the same number were also discharged from the Adjutant General's, Surgeon General's, Pension and Land offices. The force at present employed in the Public offices is, in many instances, insufficient to keep up the current work, and there are many old claims being presented, growing out of the war, which owing to the length of time which has elapsed, and the difficulty in obtaining the necessary proof, require a very patient and laborious investigation. Indeed, the latter class are numerous enough to warrant the appointment of a separate commission, to continue for a year or two, to adjust the same.

The famous Cincinnati Base Ball Club, familiarly known throughout the country as the "Red Stockings," arrived here last night, and are stopping at Williard's. They are enquestionably the finest and most gentlemanly looking set of Base ball players ever seen in this city. Their arrival has given a new impetus to Base-ball circles, and Ball is about the only thing we hear talked of for the present. They play the "Nationals" to-day, and the "Olympics" on Saturday and Monday. Both the Nationals and Olympics are strong Clubs, and, although, they scarcely hope to vanquish the conquerors of the strongest Clubs which Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, Lansingburgh, Boston, New York City, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Baltimore could produce, they mean to play their best, and, encouraged as they will be by the presence and smiles of their hosts of lady friends, we have no fears of their being disgraced, although they may be defeated. The extraordinary success of the Red Stockings is said to lie in the fact that not one of the nine is an indulger in strong drink. Temperance men and others desirous of cultivating a good physique, will make a note of this.

Yours truly,
KAPPA.

"Play on The Slate."

During a recent fire in New York city, says the Blair County Radical a fireman, bearing in his hand a slate upon which was tallied the drinks of himself and companions, appeared at the second story window of a burning tavern and shouted to his fellow fireman below, "No. 6, play on the slate." The lesson of effectiveness taught by this homely illustration, is worth pondering over in politics to-day.

The old scratched slate labelled "Democracy" is written all over with such inscriptions as "sympathy with treason," "resistance to the draft," "abolition crusade," "unconstitutional war," "Lincoln's hirelings," "nigger equality," "repudiation," "opposition to soldiers voting," "opposition to the registry law," "equal rights to the South," "free trade," and a hundred other inscriptions calculated to prejudice the People against Free Government and injure the credit and compromise the honor of the Nation.

It is the boast of the Democratic party that their principles never change—that Democracy is to-day what it was at the commencement of the war, during its continuence and at its close. Accepting in good faith their own declarations, we exhort our Republican brethren in the coming campaign to pay little heed to men, but keep steadfast before the People the principles of that organization. In furtherance of that object we charge.

1. That the leaders of the Democratic party are to-day the same men who shaped the policy of that organization during the war; that they counseled a cowardly submission to Traitors during the rebellion and hindered the early restoration of peace by inciting the masses to violate the laws of the country.

2. That in 1864 they declared the war a "failure" and in 1868 nominated for President a man notorious for his active sympathy with the Rebellion; that the leading men in the last National Convention were rebels conspicuous for their zeal and efficiency in the cause of treason, and that the platform of the party was framed to suit the views of those lately in rebellion.

III. That the leaders of the Democratic party in the North are in sympathy with the rebels on the question of the repudiation of the National debt; that they are quietly working to depreciate the bonds of the Government and the currency of the country by misrepresenting the financial condition of the Nation and by using every artifice to render our system of taxation odious among the people.

IV. That the whole party North and South is in favor of Free Trade and opposed to a Tariff even to raise revenue to help bear the ordinary expenses of the Government; that by their course they are justly chargeable with the depression of our manufacturing interests and the consequent non-employment of thousands of mechanics and laboring men.

V. And finally, by a well organized system of doubts and objections and constitutional quibbles the leaders of that party prolonged the war, increased the debt, injured the credit of the country and materially retarded the growth and prosperity of the manufacturing interests of the country.

—These are but a few of the scores spread out before the people on the old Democratic slate. And upon them we call upon the Republican party to play.

BE CAREFUL
WHAT MEDICINES
YOU TAKE.

When you are exhausted by over-work of head or hand, and feel the need of something invigorating, don't drink whiskey nor any intoxicating thing, whether under the name strength to your weary body and mind as the whip gives to the jaded horse, and no more. Alcoholic stimulants are injurious to Nerve-health, and are ALWAYS followed by DEPRESSING REACTION.

DODD'S NERVINE & INVIGORATOR

is a TONIC and GENTLE STIMULANT which is NOT attended by REACTION. What it gains for you it maintains. When it refreshes body or mind, it refreshes with natural strenght that come to stay. We are not recommending tetotalism in the interest of any faction; but long and extended observation teaches us that he who resorts to the bottle for rest or recuperation, will find, as he keeps at it, that he is kindling a fire in his bones which will consume like the flames of perdition. Turn from it. Take a tonic that will rerresh and not destroy. Dodd's Nervine is for sale by all Druggists. Price One Dollar. See book of Certificates that accompanies each bottle.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and all so people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and reasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,

RANGING FROM $6.50 TO $18.00

"GRANDFATHERS' STOVE."

Our grandfather's stove, what a funny old thing,
So deep, so wide and so tall;
Now the people would say, who are stylish and gay,
"It was only a hole in the wall."

It matters not what, it was pleasant to see
When night's mantle was flung over all;
Grandfather take down his good book and read
By the light from the hole in the wall.

As the sturdy young men rolled in the great logs,
They would laugh at each wintry squall,
Whilst grandma would sit on her old chair and knit
By the light from the whole in the wall.

The girls then wore home spun, and so did their beaux's,
For pride was a principle small;
And courting was done and hearts have been won
By the light from the hole in the wall.

The neighbors were friendly wherever they'd meet,
With a word of true kindness for all;
And joy was complete to hear voices so sweet
Ring round that old hole in the wall.

In those days we know, folks cared not for show,
Of improvements knew nothing at all;
But 'twas really no joke, when great clouds of smoke
Rushed out from the hole in the wall.

But those days are now o'er, we shall know them no more,
And all those old fashions have flown;
Whilst the solemn and gay are coming each day
To purchase the famous "OLD HOUSE."

Coming not only in couples, but in scores, as hundreds of good and wise men and women have done before, to look upon this magnificent stove, which is acknowledged to be the best cooking stove of the age. Remember the place,

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

SAVE MONEY.—If you want posters, circulars, bill heads, cards, paper-books, first-class job work, plain or fancy, call at the REPUBLICAN office. All work done at Philadelphia prices.

FARM FOR SALE.—Persons desiring to purchase a first rate farm, should call at, once, at the REPUBLICAN office, or upon Bond Valentine, Esq. This farm contains about 195 acres, forty acres of which are meadow. The buildings—house, barn and out-buildings—are all the very best. It is located about 1½ miles from Bellefonte. There is a great bargain in this farm. Farmers desiring a first class farm, should call and see it. Terms easy.

EVERY Republican throughout the county should send us all the items of interest occurring in his particular neighborhood. With this assistance from our friends, we can build up a paper that will be taken in every household, and our sphere of usefulness will be enlarged. We ask this from the young men. To their exertions the people look for the power which will revolutionize the county politically; and as they are the ones to be benefitted more materially than any others, we ask them to lend us a hand.

ANOTHER HOP.—Pleasant Gap is becoming notorious for its social parties, and for "tripping the light fantastic toe." The Pleasant Gap Hotel is, or is fast becoming, the summer resort of the "gay and festive" youths of our town and country. On last Friday night quite a respectable party, chiefly from Bellefonte, danced all night. A nice supper was prepared by the landlady, Mrs. Ickhoff, and amazingly relished by the dancers. It is hard to tell which they relished most, Capt. Ickhoff's "old rye," Mrs. Ickoff's excellent supper, or the dancing. Young folks will enjoy themselves.

WANTED.—One hundred and seventy-five young men, of all shapes, and sizes, from the tall, graceful dandy, with hair enough on his upper lip to stuff a barber's cushion, down to the stiff-necked, carrot-headed upstart. The object is to start a gaping corps, to be in attendance at the church doors on each Sabbath, before commencement of the same, to stare at the ladies as they enter and leave the church, and to make gentlemanly and critical remarks upon their appearance. All who wish to enter the above corps, will appear at the different church doors, promptly, on Sunday evening next.

PROMPTNESS.—About two weeks ago, Isaac Haupt, Agent for the York, Pa., Live Stock Insurance Company, insured a horse for Abraham Stewart, a worthy mechanic of this place. Three days after the horse was insured, he took sick and died. The facts were immediately reported to the Company, and in less than one week from the time notice was given, the Company sent him a check for $99 50, the full amount of his policy. This is creditable, not only to the Company, but to Isaac Haupt, their gentlemanly and energetic Agent. We have no hesitancy in recommending the York Insurance Company.

SNEAK THIEVES.—The "professors of the accumulative art," are doing a flourishing business in various localities in this county. No distinction is paid to persons, places or hours of the day.—Churches, wine-cellars and widow's hen-roosts are levied upon for tribute, and bolts and bars, locks and watch-dogs would seem to be in full sympathy with the "appropriators," so easily do they yield up the booty entrusted to their keeping. We hear of one ancient thief who stole a couple of demijons, containing proof whiskey, from the cellar of a landlord near Centre Hall, and became so pickled with it as to require the services of a physician. While raving under the effects of delirium tremens, the poor wretch would endeavor to reach under the bed, where he had conveniently secreted his plunder, for wherewith to satiate his thirst. It is needless to add that the sneaking scoundrel is a Democrat.

BURGLARY.—A daring burglary, or theft, was committed at the residence of W. K. Williams, near Locust Mills, in Huston twp., on Thursday morning, 17th inst., about 2 o'clock, the particulars of which are as follows: Oscar, son of the above named Williams, who resides in Harrisburg, and is a silver smith by trade, had arrived at home on a visit, having with him a quantity of jewelry. He awoke at the time above stated, and seeing a light in the room, demanded: "who is there?" The light was immediately extinguished, when he sprang from his bed and rushed toward the burglar, but before he got out of his room he was knocked down. His father hearing him, supposed he was up in his sleep, caught and held him; but he insisted that a man was in the house, and finally succeeded in getting loose from his father, ran down stairs, and found the outside door open; but none of the family heard the burglar go down stairs or leave the house. They then made search to see what was missing, and discovered that his satchel, containing some two hundred dollars worth of jewelry, together with fifteen dollars in money, and a watch, that were in his vest pocket; also a chest, or box, belonging to Mrs. Logue, a widow, (residing with her sister, Mrs. Williams,) containing about three hundred dollars in silver, together with other valuables, in all, about five hundred dollars, were gone. Search being made next day, the carpet sack, or satchel, was found in the lot, a few rods from the house, with all its contents.—The box of money has not yet come to light.

"KENNETH"—Your excellent communication was recieved too late for this number of the REPUBLICAN.

MR. DANIEL DERR, of this place, recently had his new dwelling house finished and painted in a very beautiful style, which makes it an ornament to that part of our young city. Mr. Dunham did the painting, who, in that line of business, has few superiors, if any.

DIAMOND DRUG STORE.—F. S. Wilson has just returned from the city with another large assortment of "fancy articles," perfumery, drugs, chemicals, &c. Frank is enterprising and energetic, and determined to maintain the excellent reputation of the Diamond Drug Store.

ICE CREAM.—We had the honor to be one of the invited guests at the ice cream party, at the new bakery establishment of J. S. McDowell. The ice cream on that occasion was the best we have ever tasted. If Mr. McDowell always furnishes such cream—so finely flavored—he will have plenty of customers during the hot summer months.

TO THOSE who love to indulge in the pleasant and entertaining game of Billiards, no more pleasant or convenient place can be found in town or city, than the large, new Billiard Saloon of George Downing, in Butts' new Building, over the Tobacco Store. George has three new Phelan Tables, and understands how to keep them, and his room is perfect order.—He claims they are the best in this part of the State, and has a room that is particularly comfortable and cool. We would recommend those of our readers who handle the cue, to try the new tables.

WE are in receipt of a complimentary ticket to a Grande Soiree Militaire to be given at the Stockton House, Cape Island, N. J., July 19th, by the Grey Reserves of Philadelphia, for which we are indebted to their gallant commander, Col. James W. Latta, whose career in the service of his country against rebellion, proved that he was of the material of which soldiers are made. The regiment will encamp at Cape May, and perform strictly all the duties of soldiers in actual service for a period of about two weeks, indulging themselves and their lady friends and guests in the recreation of this grande soiree on the 19th.

We regret our inability to join them, and hope their brightest anticipations of pleasure may be fully realized.

Why is it that military organizations seem to have died out everywhere but in Philadelphia, and why can we not have one in Bellefonte? We certainly ought.

SAD AFFAIR.—We understand a sad accident happened in Pittsburg, resulting in the death of Miss Emma Light, daughter of Rudolph Light, of Julian Furnace, Huston tp., this county. The particulars, from what we can gather from many conflicting sources, are these: She and her father had a misunderstanding about something, and he whipped her very severely. Her mother gave her money, and started her to some relatives in the West, and being detained in Pittsburg, she stopped at a hotel. When she retired, not being acquainted with gas light, she did not turn off the gas, but blew out the light. The gas escaping, filled the room, and smothered her. We understand she was found before life was extinct, but was too far gone for medical skill. Her uncle, J. C. Henderson, went on to Pittsburg for the body, but we have not yet learned of his return.

WE had the pleasure of attending the semi-Annual Exhibition of the Bellefonte Academy, at our Court House, on the evenings of Thursday and Friday last. Notwithstanding the heat, our citizens filled the house to its utmost capacity on both occasions, and they were well rewarded in the entertainment. In fact, the examinations and exhibitions of the pupils of Mr. Hughes has demonstrated to all that we have an Academy worthy of the name, and one worthy the patronage and support, in every way, of the citizens of our town and county.

The original productions of Messrs. Ganoe, Williams, Gephart and Boal, were highly creditable to those young gentlemen, and give promise of their literary success in any department of study or action. The elocutionary progress made by all since their entrance upon their studies at this Academy, was very plainly evidenced by their performances all through. We cannot particularize where so many performed their part, and all so well, but the music furnished by the young ladies upon the piano, in the presence of a vast crowd, and, in most instances, for the first time in public, was of a character to reflect high credit upon both the young ladies, and their accomplished instructress. In vocal music some of the pupils exhibit great excellence. Misses Smith and Elmira Humes being particularly successful in this branch of their accomplishments.

If our people are alive to their highest interests, the patronage of this Academy will soon be doubled. It is in excellent hands. Mr. Hughes has no superiors in his profession, and seems to have been especially fortunate in his assistants. If our men of wealth, of whom we have very many, would now liberally endow and establish this Institution, Bellefonte could furnish all the youth of our town and county, at a reasonable cost, with a classical and literary education that would fit them for the duties of afterlife, or prepare them to take high rank in the higher Institutions of the land, and reflect honor upon themselves and their native county. To excel in school and at college, is a worthy ambition to any young gentleman or lady—is the best start to be made in life, and will inevitably lead to higher efforts and larger successes in the active duties of the future that is before all.

We congratulate teachers, pupils and patrons on the grand success of our Academy, and urge upon all that it be made perpetual and growing by liberal gifts, general patronage, and friendly, approving, active interest upon the part of the intelligent and discriminating public to which it appeals.

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you, readers, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful paradise, to which heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of catarrh in its worst form and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease that he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by most druggists everywhere. je30-2t.

WE have just room to copy the following notice of our old friend and former fellow-townsman, Rev. John Towner, D. D., from the Canton, (O.) Republican.—We congratulate him on this high mark of honor:

"We have the pleasure of congratulating our fellow-citizen, Rev. John Towner, upon the recognition of his ministerial ability and profound research implied by the conferring upon him of literary degree of Doctor of Divinity. The evidence of this mark of honor toward Mr. Towner we find in the North Ohio papers containing reports of the exercises at the commencement of Baldwin University, by the trustees of which institution the degree was conferred, very unexpectedly to the recipient.

"THE UNIVERSE."—The Chicagoan, started over a year since, by H. N. F. Lewis, (publisher of the Western Rural,) as a literary weekly, and which has distinguished itself for some months past by its discussions of social questions, is to be enlarged and name changed to THE UNIVERSE. The Chicago Scrotis and Advance Guard have also been purchased to be merged therein. The first issue under the new name, to appear June 24th, will contain a paper by Hon. Robert Dale Owen, entitled "Spiritualism a Moral and Social Necessity." Something on this subject from a man of Mr. Owen's eminence will attract much attention among all thinkers. Mr. Owen, Epes Sargent, and others, are to write regularly. There will also be commenced a story involving social questions, entitled "Married; or, A Woman's Deception," by Mrs. Caroline F. Corbin, author of "Rebecca: A Woman's Secret, of which the Morning Star, (the leading Baptist organ) says:—"There are power, and genius, and art, and skill, and passion, that show it to be the work of a woman, busy with the great problems which the country cannot "escape." Every number will also contain two or more completed stories and sketches and much other matter. The facts given concerning social crimes are startling.

The terms of The Universe are $2 50 per year, or three months on trial for Fifty Cents. Try it three months, or send ten cents for a specimen copy. Address the Publisher, H. N. F. Lewis, Chicago.

IMPROVEMENTS.—A few weeks ago the Watchman stated that mechanics were leaving the town for want of work—that unless something be done, and that right speedily, our town might be set down as finished. The Centre Hall Reporter, a little one-mule concern, published by Fred. Kurtz, Esq., copied the "item," and took occasion to convince his Pennsvalley readers that the times were really hard—that Bellefonte was a dead town, and that the Radicals were running "things, generally," to the devil, or some other sea-port town.

The Watchman; when it penned, and the Reporter, when it copied the item, knew that it was all a downright falsehood. Suppose it were true; what do these Editors propose as a remedy? No doubt they would say, build up manufactories. Stop building so many splendid private residences, and invest the money in hardware and cutlery, reaper and mower, wire mills and other establishments. Yes, this would be a good way to build up the town. But do not both of these Copperhead English-Free-trade sheets advocate the very doctrine that will prevent this prosperous condition of things—this permanent growth of our town? Free-trade is their hobby. They want England and her manufactories and laboring men to prosper, no matter what becomes of Bellefonte, our manufactories, our working men, or the whole United States. If these Editors are honest; if they really desire Bellefonte and Centre county to prosper; if they delight to hear the music of the mechanic's hammer, and the thrifty farmer's song, let them cease to advocate the interests of the Nabobs and Aristocrats of England, and turn their attention to the advocacy of American men and American Measures—the true doctrine of protection to American labor.

These papers injure both the town and county by publishing such false and silly items. They would like to see hard times. They care not for the honor of the town or county. Their only object is to deceive the people into the belief that the times are really hard, and that the Republicans are to blame for it, and in this way secure, for a few years longer, the power which they have so long abused in this county. Lest any one should be misled by such locals, and to prevent outsiders from thinking that our town is not fast becoming a city, we invite them to "look in" on our town and suburbs. It is perfectly astonishing.—Mechanics are not leaving our town.—There is no person idle within our borders, who will work. There are not now, and have not been since the war, any signs of hard times. The Democrats, by their repudiation schemes, and their advocacy of English free trade, have labored hard to get up a panic; but it will not come at their bidding. Notwithstanding the opposition of this black and treasonable party, our town is improving. Why, look at it. Think for a moment, ye Editors, if you can hide the Ass's ears long enough to think. Such prosperity has never been witnessed in this or any other town. Buildings are going up so fast that owners of opposite lots have to "draw cuts" to ascertain who shall first occupy half of the street to place his piles of brick and lumber—his mortar beds, &c., while building. And just think of this, ye dwellers in "finished towns," and ye men who have been mislead by the lies of the Watchman and Reporter, one firm alone—Leathers & Brothers—furnished no less than twenty-two hundred tons of sand, for building purposes only, during the last year, while other firms furnished as largely; and 1869 is witnessing brick and stone piled up faster than in any year during the past. Our business men believe in investing in that way. If any of our neighbors think their "Mountain Sister" is standing still, we cordially invite them to come and see, and be undeceived.

But never believe either the Watchman or Reporter on any subject. They acquired bad habits during the war, and they cannot get over them. They said the loyal armies of the Government could never whip the traitors; that the Negroes, as soon as free, would all come North; that greenbacks would be worthless, and the business of the country ruined forever. Miserably false profits they were. How can you expect them now to tell the truth? It is impossible for them to do it. So be not deceived by their lies about Bellefonte or the Republican party.

POLICE, BILLIES, &c.—In last week's issue of the Watchman, the Editor enters a moderate complaint against certain of our noble and efficient police, for using the "billy" in protecting themselves from bodily injury, scars of some of which time will not obliterate. Some men, when arrested, behave very badly; and have, as above stated, left their mark on the police. But, we understand, an agreement may be entered into with the Police, by said editor, that if he keeps decent, and out of scrapes, and lets tangle-foot whiskey alone, and denies himself of his favorite "whiskey sours," the billy will not be used on him.

Good citizens seldom need to be arrested by police officers, but are obliged to pay taxes for their employment, for their own safety, and would gladly have the taxes as low as possible, by the employment of as few as would be consistent with the public welfare. Were it once established, and certain that the police dare not use the "billy," or some other weapon, in self-defence, very few, if any arrests, would, or could be made. This fact the past has abundantly demonstrated. Latterly, it has been otherwise.

A few striking examples of the use of the "billy" has materially lessoned the burdens and dangers of policemen, and we would say, God speed the day when neither the police nor the "billy" will be needed.

It is feared, however, that Democrats of the Watchman school and style, will never be able to be at peace, unless they are enabled to let off their spleen on one another, even at the risk of arrest, and a free use of "billies."

To the police we would send greeting. Continue in the future, as in the past, to do your duty fearlessly, impartially, and the good people will sustain you.

For the Republican.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.—The time is fast approaching, and, indeed, is already here, when there should be something said, and something done with regard to the establishment of a State Normal School in this district. I am not aware of all the measures which the people of Old Centre have undertaken in behalf of this scheme; but I hope that there will be some thing done shortly for the advancement of this most noble cause.—During the last session of the County Institute, which was held at Unionville, Mr. Magee, ex-officio, President, appointed a committee, consisting of influential citizens throughout the county, (mostly Directors,) to meet him at the Court House, in Bellefonte, some time during the past Spring. What they accomplished, if anything, I am unable to conceive, as a report of their proceedings, to the best of my knowledge, never appeared in public print.

Since the State Normal School, at Millersville, was established, which was in 1859, there has been a very tardy increase of this kind of schools. I think there are five Normal Schools, out of twelve required by law, in the State.—Now, why is it that this district, (the Eighth,) composed of the counties of Centre, Clinton, Clearfield, Elk, Potter, McKean, Jefferson, Clarion, Forest and Warren, can't have a Normal School?—And why cannot Centre county have the honor of establishing this school within its boundaries? I have heard it spoken of frequently, that some gentleman in Bald Eagle Valley has offered to donate to such an institution, ten acres of land, which is all that is required by law.—When the land is thus given, I know of no reason why there should not be a sufficient number of enterprising citizens found in the county to consume the stock required to erect the buildings, and put the grounds in order.

I have written this article for the purpose of drawing forth some discussion concerning this subject. TEACHER.

UNIONVILLE, PA. JUNE 26, '69.

ED'S REPUBLICAN:—As we are blessed with some spare time, I thought it might not be amiss to pen a few items that may prove of interest to your numerous readers.

Our village is rather quiet just now, as the theatrical season has closed, and the stars, no doubt, have sought the shades and delightful baths of Atlantic city. However, our town is improving to quite an extent. The Railroad company has purchased some ground from our worty citizen, Wm. P. Fisher, just below the warehouse, and, I understand, contemplates purchasing the building which is owned by our Ticket Agent, Davis Rumberger. Whether their intention is to enlarge the facilities for more extensive operations here, is yet a mystery, as railroad officials, they say, are not very communicative as to their plans, yet it looks like business. Leathers, Greist & Co. are busy with their mill, which is about two miles from town; and are shipping the lumber as fast as it can be sawed. The Penn'a R. R. Co., I believe, is their market. We will soon boast of another new church, or "meeting-house," as we Friends say, which will be quite an ornament. Streets will be opened on that account, giving us more room. Isaac Cleever, of this place, has taken the contract, and we look forward, with pleasure, to its early completion. Quite a number of our farmers are busy with their new hay. The prospect for excellent crops, of every description, was never better; and it does a man's soul good to look at the bright countenances of laboring men as they speak of the flourishing condition of crops. They know the "staff of life" must come down in price, and their nasal organs cannot always be kept to the grind-stone by some who have refused $2 25 per bushel for wheat, and who now have the article in their barns.—God grant that the bone and sinew of the country—the laboring men may triumph over such despotism.

Political matters here are defunct. A small argument cannot be raised. If anything startling appears upon the political horizon of this part of the county, you shall be informed of it. LIBERI.

MEN who are building are requested to examine the large stock of shingles just received by Howell, Gilliland & Co., before purchasing elsewhere.

From the Dallas (Tex.) Herald.

The Honest Man.

BY J. LADKIN.

O the honest man,
On the good old plan,
Who lives by daily labor;
Who pays his debts
Without regrets,
I claim for friend and neighbor.

The welcome door
Of many a poor,
But worthy humble peasant,
I've often sought,
And often thought
The greeting there most pleasant.

Their hearts are light,
Their faces bright,
With love of truth and candor;
Their dress is neat,
Their food is sweet,
Their tongues are free from slander.

Their constant rule,
Of wisdom's school,
Is virtue by profession;
Guided by sense,
Without pretense,
Is better than profession.

That rarity,
True charity,
Is seen in all their actions;
None are abused,
Faults are excused,
They banish party factions.

When I'd away,
I'm pressed to stay,
Not from flattery or fashion;
But from desire,
Far nobler, higher,
Than enthusiastic passion.

Their real worth,
Is nobler birth,
Nor is it altogether odd:
"The honest man,"
If right I scan,
"Is the noblest work of God."

The Apple Worm.

The American Entomologist, a publication which should have a wide circulation, furnishes the following:

"It has long been known that by placing an old cloth, or any other thing of that nature, in the crotch of an apple tree, the apple worms may be decoyed into building their cocoons underneath it, and thus be destroyed wholesale. Dr. Trimble's method—which amounts to the same thing, and has been found to be practically beneficial—is to fasten two or three turns of a hay band round the trunk of the apple tree, and every few days, about the middle of September, to slip the hay band up and destroy the cocoons that have from time to time been formed on the bark underneath it.

"All authors are agreed as to the practical importance of picking up and destroying the wormy apples, as fast as they fall, either by hog-power, or, when that is inconvenient and impracticable, by man power. The practical utility of allowing a gang of hogs the range of the apple orchard throughout the summer is undoubted. When we consider that every female moth that hatches out in July or August, from the first brood of apple worms, will probably deposit an egg in some two or three hundred nearly matured apples, thereby rendering them more or less unsalable, the importance of destroying the wormy windfalls—in the forepart of the season at all events—becomes at once apparent."

Curing Hay.

Experience proves that grass sho'd be cut for hay when the stalks are in bloom. The best time of all, both for clover and other grass, is just in full bloom, and the earliest blossoms are beginning to fade. If not too heavy it can then be cut in the morning, and, if carefully scattered, can be hauled in the barn in the afternoan of the same day. This makes the best quality of hay. It retains more of the nutriment of grass than if it is left exposed to dews and rains for a few days, and goes much further for fattening stock and for producing milk. But when the grass is very heavy and is cut with a mowing scythe and thrown into heavy swaths or rows, it will not cure thoroughly until two days, and it is not so good for food as that cured and put away in one day. Dew and moisture always effect the fibre of cut grass, and weakens the strength of hay. They also injure and destroy the sugary matter contained in the stems, and render them dry and tasteless. When a branch of hay can be twisted tight without showing moisture or juice it is dry enough to be stowed away. A little salt scattered over hay which has been caught in showers will improve it, and render it more palatable to stock.

A HINT TO STRAWBERRY GROWERS.—Growers (remarks the editor of the Horticulturist) desiring to extend their beds by transplanting runners, will do well to remember this simple rule. The first runners from any plant are the weakest, the second but little stronger, while the third is best of all. Cut off the 1st and 2nd growths of runners after fruiting, but leave the third root, and they will invariably make good, strong, healthy plants.

INSECTS.—If any tent catterpillars' eggs have been left, the little webs will soon manifest themselves. They are most readily seen when the dew is on them in the morning. They are easily destroyed by the hand, with a corn-cob, or by the use of a swab, with lye. Destroy them at any rate. Borers are to be cut out. Where there is a depression in the bark, the knife will usually reveal a borer.

Miscellaneous.

FORT SCOTT, KANSAS, June 25, '69.

COL. W. W. BROWN:—

Dear Sir:—I receive the REPUBLICAN every week, and can truly say that it is a replete and spicy sheet, and indicates that its editors thoroughly understand their business.

Col., I am spending a portion of my time in Montgomery county, which lies on the South line of the State and bordering on the Indian Territory.—The Verdigris River runs thro' the centre of the county, and on this river is some of the finest timber in the State. The tributaries of the Verdegris river are all well timbered. The Verdegris Valley is acknowledged to be the finest portion of the State of Kansas, and the valley's of the tributaries to the Verdegris are second to none.

We have started a town on the Verdegris river, just below the mouth of Drum river, called Verdegris City, in the centre of the county, and have succeeded in getting the county organized and Verdegris city appointed the County Seat. This place is 70 miles from Fort Scott. We have plenty of good water, wood, coal, and a soil that cannot be beaten anywhere in the western country, and now the only thing we need in addition, is good men and women to develop the resources, and then we will have a country second to none beneath the canopy of Heaven, and I should like to see people from the old Keystone State enjoy a portion of these lands. They can come on with their land warrants or homestead, or buy the land at one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre. The treaty was only ratified this spring, and at the present time we have fifteen hundred inhabitants in the county, and the emmigration is only commencing. There is no doubt out there will be an immense emmigration this summer and fall.

The emmigration to Fort Scott at present is immense, the hotels and boarding houses are not able to accomodate more than half of the people. The Missouri River Fort Scott and Gulf R. R. will be completed to this place by the 1st of August.

Yours truly,
W. S. MACFEATERS.

A Beautiful Passage.

The following is from the reveries of a bachelor, by Ike Marvel: "A poor man without some sort of religion is at best a poor reprobate, the foot-ball of destiny, with no tie linking him to infinity and the wondrous eternity that is even worse—a flame without heat, a rainbow without a color, a flower without perfume. A man may, in some, tie his hope and his honor to this shifting ground tackle, to his business or the world, but a woman without that anchor called faith, is a drift and a wreck! A man man may in some sort of moral responsibility out of relation to mankind, but a woman in her comparatively isolated sphere, where effection and not purpose is the controlling motive, can find no basis in any other system or right action of that faith. A man may craze his thoughts to truthfulness, in such poor harborage as fame and reputation may stretch before him, but woman—where can she put her hopes in storm, if not Heaven? And that sweet truthfulness—that abiding love—that enduring hope mellowing every page and scene in life—lighting them with radiance, when the world's storms break like an army with cannon. Who can bestow its all but holy soul, tied to what is stronger than an army with cannon? Who has enjoyed the love of a Christian mother, but will echo the thought with energy, and hallow it with tears?"

FRESH AIR.—People who shudder at a flesh wound, or a tinge of blood, would confine their children like convicts, and compel them, month after month, to breathe quantities of poison. It would less impair the mental and physical constitution of children, gradually to draw an ounce of blood from their veins during the same length of time, than to send them to breathe, for six hours a day, the lifeless and poisoned air of some schoolrooms. Let any man who votes for confining children in a small room, and keeping them on stagnant air, try the experiment of breathing his own breath only four times over; if medical aid be not at hand, the children will never be endangered by his vote afterward.—Horace Mann.

THE Irish Church bill passed the House of Peers to a second reading, on Friday night, by a vote of 179 to 146, showing a majority against the absolute rejection of the bill, as proposed by the extreme Tories, of 33. The bill is now open to amendment, and in all probability will be sent back to the House of Commons with the disestablishment feature retained, but stripped of its disendowment provision. A contest between the Commons and Lords on this and other amendments is not at all improbable.

TO CRITICIZE a paper is an easy task, but to print one to please every body and the rest of mankind, is no small undertaking. Those who find fault with every little item which dose not suit their ideas of right and wrong, should buy type and publish an organ of their own. Let them try it for a while, and if they don't get some new ideas on the subject, we are no judges of human nature—that's all.

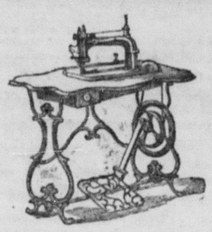
SEWING MACHINE.

AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE OVER SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE COMBINED.

MEDAL AWARDED AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.



In directing attention to the celebrated COMBINATION BUTTON HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE, we feel fully warranted in claiming for it unquestionable superiority over all others as a Family Machine.—The Simplicity, Ease and Certainty with which it operates, as well as the uniform excellence of its work, certainly place it far in advance of any other similar invention of the age.

It is also the cheapest, intrinsically, as well as the best, since it is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement never before accomplished by human ingenuity,) making either the Lock Stitch or Button Hole Stitch, as occasion may require. It is, at the same time, simple in construction, comparatively noiseless, easily understood, and, in a word, it combines with those advantages exclusively its own the most desirable qualities of all others, for it not only does every variety of sewing in a SUPERIOR MANNER, but in addition OVERSEAMS splendidly and makes beautiful BUTTON and EYELET HOLES in all fabrics. This is far beyond the capacity of any other machine.

The SPLENDID MECHANISM of this Machine, and the superior skill workmanship and materials employed in its construction, are a guarantee of accuracy, strength and durability, and enable the company and its agents to Warrant Every Machine they sell to give entire satisfaction.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN ON THE MACHINE GRATUITOUSLY.

Lessons may be taken if desired with a view to test the Machine, or to become better acquainted with it before deciding to purchase. Samples of work will be furnished upon application at
